

School Enrollment On Opening Day Is Very Encouraging

Ninety Seven and One-Half Per Cent. of the Total Enrollment Were On Hand On the Opening Day

125 TUITION PUPILS ARE ENROLLED

The enrollment in the Clearfield public schools on opening day, Monday, October 2d, totaled 1681 pupils. These pupils were divided among the different buildings as follows:

High School	436
Eighth Grade	127
Market Street Building	356
Third Ward	402
Fourth Ward	289
Reedsville	71

The attendance the first day was 97 1-2 per cent of the total enrollment.

On account of the crowded condition of the high school building the day is divided into two sections. The Seniors and Juniors attend from 8 o'clock to 12, while the Sophomores and Freshmen are heard from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. The periods are limited to thirty-five minutes each instead of fifty minutes as provided for in the regular order, when it is possible to occupy the new high school building, which will be done following the Christmas holidays.

When the high school is removed from its present quarters to the new building the seventh and eighth will be housed in the present high school building and this building or school will be known as the Central Grammar school.

This year the tuition pupils—those from other districts attending the Clearfield schools total 125. Each pupil or school district from which he comes will be required to pay $4.00 per month tuition charges to the Clearfield School board and this item during last year amounted to more than $3,000.

Every school is already down to business and from the admirable working organization already perfected and able corps of instructors engaged excellent results are confidently looked forward to by Superintendent Zerfoss and the school board.

Well Known Veteran Passes Away

Funeral of Richard J. Shaffner Will Be in Charge of G. A. R.

Richard J. Shaffner, a well known and highly respected resident of Lawrence township, passed peacefully to rest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William T. Hinkle in Plymouthville, on Thursday evening last after an illness of several months duration aged 76 years.

The deceased was the son of the late Samuel Shaffner, and was born and raised in Lawrence township. He followed farming and lumbering. He was a veteran of the Civil War and possessed an enviable war record. Following the death of his wife, several years ago he had been making his home with his children and for the past year had been living with Mrs. Hinkle.

He is survived by three children: Mrs. Emmott Hinkle, of Salem, Ore.; Mrs. Harry Haney, of Clearfield, and Mrs. William T. Hinkle of Lawrence township.

Funeral services will be held at his late home Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and will be in charge of Larimer Post, G. A. R. Interment in Mt. Joy cemetery.

MRS. WILSON'S BIRTHDAY

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 14.—This was a red-letter day at Shadow Lawn the summer home of the President and Mrs. Wilson. Officially it was designated as "Pennsylvania day," having been set aside by the President for the reception of a large party of Pennsylvania Democrats who came over to pay their respects. Officially it was "Mrs. Wilson's day" in the presidential family circle and household. The day was the anniversary of Mrs. Wilson's birth and many were the remembrances and greetings received from friends and admirers throughout the country. Mrs. Wilson was born at Wytheville, Va., Oct. 14, 1872.

Year Old Wilkesbarre Street Car Strike Comes to An End

Strike Started One Year Ago Today and None of The Men Have Broken Ranks

Wilkes Barre, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—The local street car strike started a year ago ended today when mediators for the owners talked with national officers of the strike union reached practically the basis of settlement. The thirty patrolmen who were ordered off duty by Mayor Kos-

Dental Robbers Visit Kane After Indiana

Have Now Been to DuBois, Kane Indiana and Clearfield.

Evidently the robbers who have made a specialty of robbing dentists' offices have not left this part of the country. Since the DuBois dentists' offices were robbed, several nearby towns have been visited. Now comes report of a similar robbery at Kane.

Of the robbery the Kane Republican says:

Burglars, believed to be professionals, obtained about $150 worth of gold by rifling the offices of Dr. A. F. Jupp, Dr. K. E. Wenk and Dr. J. V. Anderson some time during last night. No clues were left by the thief or thieves though it is believed that the crime may be the work of the men who have recently robbed dentists' offices in DuBois and Clearfield county. Local losses are as follows: Dr. Cupp, $60; Dr. Wenk, $25; and Dr. Anderson $45.

The offices of Dr. Cupp and Dr. Wenk were entered by wedging the blade of a knife between the door and the casing, forcing back the lock. The same means of effecting an entrance probably was used at Dr. Anderson's office though there are no marks on the door or casing.

JERRY TRAVERS A BRIDEGROOM

Newburg, N. Y., Oct. 14.—Guests sufficient in number to fill several pages of a golfers' "Who's Who" came to Newburg today to attend the wedding of Jerome Dunston Travers and Miss Doris Tiffany, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Walter C. Tiffany of this place. Both bride and bridegroom are widely known in golf circles. Mr. Travers, whose home is at Montclair, N. J., is a four-time winner of the amateur golf championship of the United States and one of the three amateurs who have held the open title. Miss Tiffany is a sister of Gilman Tiffany, one of the best known of the metropolitan golfers. The wedding takes place early this evening at the First Presbyterian church and is to be followed by a reception at the Powelton club.

K. OF C. BANQUET IS PLEASANT OCCASION

Michael J. Ryan, the Guest of Honor and Orator of the Evening, Well Received

177 PRESENT AT BANQUET

The banquet given by Clearfield Knights of Columbus at the Dimeling Thursday afternoon in celebration of Columbus Day, was the largest and most successful occasion of the kind in the history of the organization. Guests were present from Curwensville, DuBois, Osceola, Houtzdale, Philipsburg and Tyrone.

Hon. Michael J. Ryan former city solicitor of Philadelphia, and a member of the Pennsylvania Public Service commission, was the honor guest and orator of the evening. It is doubtful if Pennsylvania possesses within her borders a more eloquent public speaker than Mr. Ryan and his address on this occasion was indeed an oratorical gem of purest rays serene.

He paid most eloquent tribute to Christopher Columbus the patron of the order and whose name it bears and exhorted his hearers to let the achievements of the discoverer of the American continent be their guide and inspiration to do things, and closed with an eloquent appeal for right living and patriotic American citizenship.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., Clearfield's most noted after dinner speaker, followed in a pleasing address, which struck the popular chord.

The third speaker, Dr. S. J. Waterworth, of the local council, was also a highly pleasing effort and was fully in keeping with the high character of the preceding addresses.

James P. O'Laughlin, Esq., presided as toastmaster in his usual inimitable manner and added new laurels to his already fine reputation as the force which makes the wheels go round at functions such as this.

Manager McGinnis provided the following appetizing menu for the occasion:

Blue Points on Shell	Consomme	Gherkins
Celery	Olives
Roast Young Turkey, Stuffed	Cranberry Jelly
Whipped Potatoes	Candied Jersey Sweeties
	Green Peas
	Waldorf Salad
Vanilla Ice Cream	Cake
Cheese	Crackers
Mixed Nuts	Mints
	Cafe Noir

During the banquet, which was participated in by 176 persons "Tipperary" "When You Were a Tulip," "Where the River Shannon Flows" "America" and "Auld Lang Syne" were sung by the assemblage with feeling effect.

The party arose from the banquet board and adjourned to the Assembly hall at 11 o'clock and enjoyed in dancing until the wee sma' hours, when all departed for their homes unanimously voting the entire affair a huge success, and complimenting the committee in charge and The Dimeling management most heartily for their good work.

Wilson Opens Power On Great Dam Today

One of the Engineers on Project is Associated With E. W. Hess

President Wilson will start the wheels of the immense power house connected with this dam, by pressing a button at Washington at noon October 14th. Pictures of this the largest dam in the United States were given in the Public Ledger last Sunday.

Harry S. Stanton, Asso. M. Am. Soc. C. E., now engaged in the completion of the Elephant Butte dam, New Mexico, has resigned from the Reclamation service and will be associated with E. W. Hess, Engineer, M. Am. Soc. C. E., at DuBois, Penna. in the general practice of engineering. From Engineering News, New York, Oct. 12, 1916.

Mr. Stanton had a varied experience in engineering work, railroads, trolleys, municipal and mines before entering the Reclamation service.

FARMERS OF COUNTY PROVE THAT THEY ARE PROGRESSIVE

Two Hundred From Clearfield Wend Their Way to Snow Shoe Fertilizer Test

Are Shown Most Interesting Exhibits Of Producing Abilities of DeKalb Soil Under Proper Scientific Fertilization and Tilling.

The progressive attitude of the Clearfield County Farmers was very clearly shown by the excellent representation at the Snow Shoe Fertilizer Plats on Thursday, October 12th. Although the season was an extremely busy one, more than two hundred Clearfield County farmers left their work, climbed into their automobiles and set out for Snow Shoe in the frost and fog of an October morning.

The scene of the gathering was an abandoned mountain pasture a short distance over the Center County line upon which are located the 33 tenth acre plats upon which soil and fertilizer tests are being conducted by the Department of Experimental Agronomy at the Pennsylvania State College.

It would have been difficult to find a worse depleted and more barren location for conducting soil fertility experiments. The land surrounding the fertilizer plats is entirely devoid of useful vegetation and the soil seems capable of producing only scanty growths of such poor plants as poverty grass, briars and sweet fern.

Although the soil upon which these experiments are being conducted is great deal worse depleted than most DeKalb soils in the state, the same general principle of soil fertility will apply here as to the remaining twelve million acres of this type of land in Pennsylvania, and the results obtained here may be regarded as practically conclusive for all of the agricultural land in Clearfield county. The experiments as conducted here have for their object the study of economical method of building up this type of land found so extensively throughout this section of the State.

In explanation of the manner in which this work has been conducted and the results thus far obtained Mr. White, who is in direct charge of the experimental work, emphasized the following points:

1. All DeKalb soils are sour and before results from the application of plant food can be expected it is necessary to first correct this soil acidity in order that the comparative effect of the different methods of fertilization might be obtained. All plats but the check plats received an application at the rate of 3,000 pounds per acre of ground limestone. This application is larger than is ordinarily necessary to apply to get satisfactory immediate results, but since much of the ground limestone does not become immediately available they expect at least half of this application to be used in maintaining a desirable alkaline condition in years to come.

2. Phosphorous is the limiting fertilizing element on DeKalb soils. This means that there is a great deficiency of Phosphorous than any other fertilizing element so far as plant growth is concerned. The application of Phosphorous found most profitable was 65 pounds of phosphoric acid which would be equivalent to about 400 pounds of 14 per cent acid phosphate.

3. Under present conditions it is impossible to apply potash without loss, but under normal conditions experimental results show that an application of about 25 pounds of potash (actual) or 50 pounds of muriate of potash gives the best results when applied in connection with the aforementioned amounts of lime and phosphorous.

Election Frauds Are Mostly in Indiana

Evidence Will Be Presented to Grand Jury Next Month.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Agents of the department of justice from Washington are working in Indiana cities in connection with charges of election frauds. It was admitted in a statement by L. E. Slack, United States district attorney. It is charged that registration on October 9, was not conducted legally and that plans are being made to bring the voters from other states into Indiana for election in November. The evidence will be presented to the Federal grand jury next month.

CELEBRATION AT KENTUCKY "U"

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—Seldor has Lexington been called upon to entertain a larger crowd of visitors than that which showed up here today to help make a success of the golden jubilee celebration of Kentucky university. From far and near came the alumni, hundreds of whom left the cares of business behind to return for a brief spell to the scenes of their student days. The day's program called for informal class reunions, an historical parade and addresses by President H. S. Barker, President Emeritus James K. Patterson and others. As an added attraction this afternoon came the annual Vanderbilt 'Kentucky football game, the most important contest of the year on the 'Wildcat' schedule.

shoric acid. This fact is a very important one to remember when approached by the fertilizer agent who wishes to sell a ready mixed fertilizer containing one per cent. of potash at a price far in advance of its actual value.

4. Commercial nitrogen was used at a loss on these experiments as has far conducted. There is a possibility that commercial nitrogen may pay for itself when applied to the wheat crop but when it is understood that legumes store up nitrogen without being influenced by the present demand for nitrogen by the muntion factories and that a ton crop of clover returns $8 worth of nitrogen to the soil, it is a very doubtful practice to apply commercial nitrogen to general farm crops when a legume crop is grown in rotation as it invariably should be.

In view of the fact that the results obtained in this experiment conform to the experience of many of our most progressive Clearfield County farmers it would seem well to keep them in mind in making future applications of lime and fertilizer. In looking through a fertilizer agent's books his best selling branch is found to be an -8-1 mixture, that is one of nitrogen, of phosphoric acid and one of potash. This branch was selling at $24 a ton. 16 per cent acid phosphate could be purchased at the same time for $19. Must we not logically conclude that $14 a ton is an exorbitant price for the small amount of nitrogen and potash obtained by this expenditure. Examination of the chemical analysis of hay or oats struck would demonstrate beyond a doubt that potash could be obtained through its application much more economically than through the application of commercial potash at present prices.

It must not be forgotten, however, that potash can be applied with profit in the proportions before given when potash the market returns to its normal condition. Very instructive talks were given by Dean Watts, Dr. Sparks and Professors Gardner and Tomhave. Prof. Tomhave spoke on livestock and the utilization of DeKalb soil and emphasized the importance of good livestock in maintaining a permanent system of agriculture on soils of this type.

Professor Gardner spoke on the subject of making poor soils good, and in closing he emphasized the following essentials in making farming more profitable:

A carefully planned crop rotation with varieties of the crops that are adapted to local conditions should not be overlooked. Increase in the numbers of all classes of livestock, poultry and dairy cattle will make for the fullest utilization of the farm products and the farm labor, and will go forward maintaining soil fertility. The use of green manures and the application of lime and phosphate are essential in connection with the building up of the fertility of the soil. No crop rotation in which clover or some other legume does not enter is likely to prove profitable.

DANISH LINER SIGHTS WEST BOUND SUB.

Nothing More Heard of Location of U-53 Since Danish Commander Sighted Her

WAS SIGHTED 200 MILES OUT

New York, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—A west bound submarine was cited one mile astern of the Danish liner Hellig Olav at 8:30 yesterday morning by the White State Liner Bovic which returned from Manchester, England today. Some of the Bovic's officers felt sure that it was chasing the Danish vessel while others were not certain that the Hellig Olav was being chased. The Bovic speeded up and changed her course westward that she may avoid a possible attack. The Hellig Olav left New York Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports carrying 71 cabin passenger and several steerage passengers. It was 200 miles east of New York when the Bovic saw the submarine near here yesterday. Captain Jones of the Bovic would not discuss the submarine but Captain Hall of the tug from Sandy Hook which brought the Bovic in said that Captain Jones told him that it looked through a stereoscope and that it was a mile away from the Danish vessel. He would have opened fire if it had been a larger target, he said.

Boston, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Absolutely nothing has been heard of the German submarine U-53 since reports were received that the steamer Bovic had seen a submarine yesterday, the Charleston radio station reported today. The report was current that a submarine had been seen off the Massachusetts coast but this was confused with reports that a Danish vessel was being pursued by a submarine which was seen by the steamer Bovic.

New York Milk Strike Comes To Abrupt End

Producers Are To Get One Cent a Quart More For Milk

New York, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—The New York milk strike ended today when nineteen companies in the city reached an agreement with the producers after a four hours session at which it was agreed to pay one cent more a quart for the milk. Normal conditions will be in swing by Monday.

SOCIETY WOMAN WILL EXPLORE THE AMAZON

Newport, R. I., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Unexplored jungles encompassing the Amazon river hold no terrors for Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice, who is expected to sail from here today with her husband, Dr. A. Hamilton Rice, the South American explorer, for a voyage into the unknown upper reaches of the greatest river in the world.

Mrs. Rice, formerly Mrs. George D. Widener, a Philadelphia society leader, was saved when her husband went down with the Titanic.

Dr. and Mrs. Rice, with three members of the London Geographical society, which is financing the expedition, embark on the steam yacht Alberta, once owned by King Leopold II of Belgium and presented to Dr. Rice by th Baroness Vaughan.

Dr. Rice is a Harvard graduate. Mrs. Rice is the daughter of the late William L. Elkins, of Pennsylvania.

Bayonne Lady Drops Dead From Fright As The Result Strike

Reported That Four Thousand Employees of the Standard Oil at Bayway Will Strike Tomorrow

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—One death as a result of the strike occurred today when Mrs. Anna Coup, aged 60 dropped dead of fright when policemen entered her home this afternoon. The Union Pacific Borax Company have agreed to give their men who receive $3.00 per day of 12 per cent. and to the men who receive over $3.00 per day an increase of 7 per cent. 4,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company plant at Bayway near Elizabeth were expected to walk out this afternoon. H. A. Reese of Kylertown and J. E. Michaels of Mahaffey were here today to attend the Road View meeting.

ABAINCOURT IS IN HANDS OF FRENCHMEN

King Constantine Fears German Will Overrun Roumania and Greece if She Enters War

SERBIANS ATTACK BULGARIANS

London, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Fighting between Italian and Austrian troops at Cherso Gorge is being continued with violence. A Rome dispatch reported today. The Austrians have lost 2,800 men in the last 48 hours fighting, the Italian statement said. German troops are vigorous counter attacks have succeeded in reoccupying Abaincourt fighting on the south of the Somme. The attacks were received by strong fire. French troops, however, have driven the Germans out, and Abaincourt is now entirely in French hands. General Foch reported. An attempt to invade Roumania by Austrian and German troops is reported by a Bucharest dispatch. The British in the Balkans have driven the enemy troops across Seres. While the Serbians continue their attack against Bulgaria. King Constantine, according to the Athens correspondent, told a diplomat that he fears Germany will overrun Roumania and he has the same fears of a likewise fate for Greece should that country enter the war. He is delaying action for that reason.

UNDERMINING THE HOME.

During recent years there has been in some quarters a marked disposition to impose upon the national or state government, the public school system, upon municipal authorities, responsibilities which properly belong to the home. This is a blunder of great magnitude. We admit that when parents are wholly unfit to train their children the latter should be taken from them and placed in real homes. But nothing in the world can take the place of the home; nothing is equal to parental responsibility. The pulpit should make this plain to the parents who sit in the pews and claim to believe in the doctrines of religion.

The solitary were gathered into families in the beginning. The family is a divine institution. Its duties and responsibilities have been imposed upon it by the Highest Wisdom. Instead of being encouraged to shift the burden in rearing and disciplining its young inmates to others, it should be admonished to magnify the office of the father and the mother. There is a certain divine individuality about the genuine family life that leaves a lasting impress upon the minds and the hearts of its young subjects. The state fails to realize the perils that will soon lie in its way when it undertakes to do its own work and the work of the family, also, leaving parents free to become careless and selfish and indifferent.

In some sections of the United States, we are told, there are mothers who seem to be absolutely destitute of the mothering instinct. They permit their children to sleep at home; they feed them when they present themselves at meal time; they exercise a reasonable vigilance over the matter of clothing them; but they are quite willing that somebody else shall attend to their mental, moral and physical education. They throw upon the church the responsibility for the religious culture of their offspring; they place upon the school the entire burden of education, both in mere mental attainments as well as common courtesy and good manners. They do not burden their consciences concerning the whereabouts of the children until bedtime. In short they have abdicated the opportunities, the privileges, the responsibilities of parenthood, while quite prepared to claim its benefits, should any accrue in the later years.

It used to be said that the word "home" is one of the dearest in the English language. To many persons it is still that. But in a great many instances the modern home has become a sleeping place and a place of occasional social resort; little else. The husband and father is harassed by many cares. He is a business or a professional man and as he grows in years becomes increasingly engrossed by the cares of life. He eats his breakfast at home, perhaps, but his lunch, and quite often his dinner, are the product of the restaurant. It has become very common, also, for the American woman to imitate the example of her husband and take many of her meals down town. Sometimes she belongs to a fashionable club where meals are served and she is fond of meeting her friends there. The children—if there are any—must serve themselves or trust to the tender mercies of hired help. These things should not be. They serve as the beginning of national degeneration. The home should be the dearest spot on earth, the most attractive to every one of its members. Any tendency which has the effect of weaning one from his associations, home employments, home joys, should be shunned.—Altoona Tribune.

CURWENSVILLE

The Keystone cornet band rendered some very excellent music on the street last evening.

Curwensville needs a thorough fall house cleaning. Let the lazy men help the industrious women.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heitzner will give a reception this evening at their home on Smith street in honor of their son Bruce and his bride.

Messrs. Merritt Caldwell and Frampton Bailey leave Sunday for "Turkey Run." If any other hunter can locate the place he too might get a run for his money.

Owing to the inclement weather last evening the pie social which was to have been held at the home of Frank Bloom, Ferncliff, was postponed until this evening.

Dr. W. G. Gann and wife, Mrs. J. D. Corbett and Mrs. Reimire, all of DuBois, were a motor party that partook of a fine dinner at the New Central hotel on Thursday.

Prof. Briggs, connected with the department of agriculture at Harrisburg, gave a lecture in the High school building last evening. There was quite a good attendance, and many heard more about birds, their habits and use than they ever knew before.

John Kelly, the noted fox hunter, is planning quite a hunting trip. Beginning on Monday next he will take a week off hunting horned owls. He has a very fine specimen mounted and on display in his home, together with all manner and kinds of pelts. John gets "the bacon" as the saying goes.

Several near accidents occurred between here and Clearfield Thursday. In two instances the drivers were hurrying the wrong side of the curve. Why is that such a violation of road law is tolerated by the Highway department? Drastic legislation must be enacted concerning qualifications for driving motor propelled vehicles.

A. Z. Wolf and wife, W. K. Wrigley and wife, G. M. Cate and wife, J. M. McKinley and wife, and J. L. Leeb and wife will compose a general party who go to the Bear Run hunting camp, on the barrens, next week, where they will enjoy camp life for five or six days. The male portion of the colony will put in the time hunting for the descriptive pheasant.

John S. Furt, accompanied by a friend, A. Spencer, both of Philadelphia, arrived in Curwensville yesterday. They will start for one of the mountain hunting camps on Monday morning where they will remain during the week hunting. Mr. Furt is well known here having served as cashier of the Citizens bank during its short life. His innumerable friends were glad to welcome him "home" and see him enjoying good health.

The Civic club program, for Tuesday, the 13th inst., as handed to the Progress, and by a lady on the committee with request to publish as follows: Singing, club invocation, "Lord's Prayer"; music, McKinley's orchestra; monologue, Conceive Lanberry; dact. Rev. E. D. Pakhill and Mabel Leonard; open parliament, "The imperative need of a Community Centre in Curwensville" opened by Rev. Max Lantz; pianologue, Elizabeth Pilkington; dact. Prof. H. A. Dickey and Margaret Hipps; reading, Fred Robinson; violin solo, Laura Troy; reading Cecelia Jane Smith; selection, orchestra.

The funeral of the late Robert J. Shaffner will take place at the home of W. T. Hinkle at two o'clock Sunday afternoon and the services will be held at the Mt. Joy church, officiated in Mr. Joy Cemetery.

ON THE SCREEN

"ONE MILLION DOLLARS"

The Special Feature at the Globe Today

will be the latest release of Rolfe Photo Play, Inc. on the program of the Metro Picture corporation, and presents William Faversham, the famous dramatic actor, in five act feature picture, "One Million Dollars." This is typical Faversham production, teeming with action and unfolding an intensely interesting story of love and intrigue. It is pictured from the successful novel, "One Million Dollars" by Frederick Arnold Kummer, author of many books and plays, including "The Other Woman" in which Blanch Walsh was starred, "The Painted Woman" with Florence Red and "Mr. Rattles" with Henry E. Dixey.

An excellent cast appears in support of Mr. Faversham, including Henry Bergam, George Le Guere, Carlotta De Polce and Arthur Morrison.

THE APOSTLE OF VENGEANCE

Mrs. S. Hart and Fatty Arbuckle at The Opera House Monday

The Triangle program which will be shown at the Opera House on Monday presents two of their most popular stars in one of the most entertaining shows ever presented in one evening.

Win S. Hart in "The Apostle of Vengeance" a 5 reel story of a Kentucky feud, plays the part of a minister called to his old home to avenge the murder of his father. He tries to make the mountaineers see the error of their ways by preaching but only succeeds in making them think he is a coward. Finally his little sister is attacked and Hart lays aside his clerical robes and gets a gun. The story is thrilling in the extreme. Fatty Arbuckle is presented in one of his best comedies, "The Waiter's Ball" a 2 reel Keystone guaranteed to make a blind man laugh. It is just packed full of fun and is Arbuckle at his best. You will surely enjoy them.

NOTED DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS DIED TODAY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14.—Robert Swan, director of public works in this city and one of the country's leading engineers died at his home here today. Deceased Swan was for many years one of the chief engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad later he was vice president and general manager of the T. L. Gillespie company. He directed the work of the water system in many sections of the country including New York city. He was aged 57 years and died of heart failure.

NOTICE OF APPLICATION FOR CHARTER

Notice is hereby given that an application will be made to the Governor of Pennsylvania on Monday, the sixth day of November, 1916 under the provision of an act of Assembly entitled "An Act to provide for the incorporation and Regulation of certain Corporations," approved April 29, A. Lesson III.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 15, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xxv, 1-12. Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Matt. x. 25—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The successor to Felix, Porcius Festus, seems to have been in some respects like minded to Felix, for he, too, was willing to do the Jews a pleasure (xxiv. 27; xxv. 12), and he would have sent Paul back to Jerusalem had he been willing to go. This was what the Jews desired, that they might lay in wait for him by the way and kill him (xxv. 3). Their hatred of Paul does not seem to have decreased in the least during two years, for they were still full of grievous complaints against him which they could not prove (verses 2, 7). He was having wondrous fellowship with the Lord Jesus, for whose sake he was suffering and of whom it was written, "I have charge of thee that I know not." "Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness" (Ps. xxv. 11; lxxxix. 20).

When we consider such words as these, "Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue," "Thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues," "There shall no evil befall thee," "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper" (Job v. 21; Ps. xxi. 20; xci. 10; Isa. liv. 17) and other similar assurances we are tempted to wonder a little, but then we remember that Paul was told that he must suffer great things for Christ's sake, and he taught others that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God and that all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. And our Lord said to His disciples that in the world we would have tribulation, and after He ascended He said to one of the churches that the devil would cast some of them into prison, but they were to continue faithful even if they died for it, and some who had been killed were told to rest awhile till others should be killed as they were (Acts ix. 16; xiv. 22; II Tim. iii. 12; John xvi. 23; Rev. ii. 10; vi. 11). He certainly loves His own and will to the uttermost, yet He allowed the disciples to toll nearly all night against a contrary wind, and He allowed Lazarus to continue sick and die and be buried that God might be glorified.

We must bear in mind that just because we are His we have the world, the flesh and the devil to contend with, but He will not suffer us to be tried above that we are able, and all our trials and afflictions are working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (I Cor. x. 13; II Cor. iv. 17-18). When from the kingdom and the glory we look back over our life story and consider all the way by which He has led us we may perhaps see a reason for everything He has done or permitted. But we shall surely say right was the pathway leading to this. It therefore becomes us during this little while to say, "As for God, His way is perfect." "Just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of nations" (Ps. xlviii. 30; Rev. xv. 3).

If only we could have no will of our own and rest wholly and fully in the perfect will and love of God we would have a foretaste of heaven in spite of all our trials here. When Paul refused to return to Jerusalem and appealed to Caesar that decided matters for the present, and Festus said, "Unto Caesar shalt thou go" (verses 9-12). It may be that the Lord's next message to him, "So must thou bear witness also at Rome" (xxiii. 11), helped him to decide to appeal to Caesar, for Caesar meant Rome, and this may have seemed to him his opportunity.

King Agrippa and Bernice having come to Caesarea to salute Festus, the whole matter was laid before them, and Agrippa expressed a desire to hear Paul for himself, and that will be our lesson for next week. Thus was being fulfilled the Lord's message to Ananias concerning Paul. "He is a chosen vessel unto me to bear my name before the gentiles and kings and the children of Israel (ix. 15). As Festus rehearsed the matter to Agrippa, he said that the whole matter seemed to be a question of Jewish superstition, and specially concerning one Jesus who was dead, but whom Paul affirmed to be alive (verse 10). Does not that seem to describe the knowledge that many so called enlightened people have of Him even now? Many are like Gallo and care for none of these things (xxiii. 14-17), while many more, even among church-goers, who take some part in the public worship outwardly, know nothing of Him as a person of Saviour and friend.

It is written of such in Isa. xxix. 13, "They have drawn near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me." Also in Ezek. xxxiii. 21, "They hear thy words, but they will not do them, for with their mouth they show us high love, but their heart is far from their covenant-ness." In Matt. xv. 8, 9, our Lord quoted the words from Isaiah concerning the hypocrites of His day. Can you not hear our Lord saying to you, "What think ye of Jesus? Whom do ye say that I am?" Does your heart reply, "O Lord, thou art to me my own Saviour, who didst bear my sins on the cross and hast redeemed me by Thy precious blood, that I might live for Thee, and after I have suffered awhile share Thy kingdom and glory?"

BECOMES BRIDE OF SWISS DIPLOMAT

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 14.—An international romance reached its culmination today in the ceremony at St. a large crowd and the largest display which made Miss Elizabeth Schoepf daughter of the millionaire head of the Cincinnati traction system, the bride of Dr. Charles Paul Hubschler, secretary of the Swiss legation at Washington. The wedding took place in the presence of a notable company of society people. The bridegroom had as his best man Count Raoul d'Adhemar of Washington.

TO AVOID PARALYSIS.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—Residents of Philadelphia, Washington and cities further south who have passed the Summer in the fashionable colonies along the North Shore have arranged for a special train to carry them home without touching at New York. The train will leave Boston tomorrow and will make the trip to Philadelphia and Washington by way of the Poughkeepsie Bridge. The idea is to avoid the metropolis on account of the infantile paralysis situation there.

STATE FAIR OPENS AT DALLAS.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 14.—During the next two weeks Dallas will be the Mecca for thousands of visitors from all over the Southwest who annually attend the Texas State Fair. The fair was formally opened today with a large crowd and the largest display in every department ever known on opening day. Horses, cattle and other live stock exceed in number and excellence any previous fair, while in the agricultural, machinery and domestic are halls the displays are better and more varied than last year. For the opening day an interesting program of addresses and ceremonies was arranged.

PAIN GONE! RUB SORE, RHEUMATIC ACHING JOINTS

Rub pain away with a small trial Bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Stop "dossing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot" and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles, and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia. Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest, "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

School Enrollment On Opening Day Is Very Encouraging

Ninety Seven and One-Half Per Cent. of the Total Enrollment Were On Hand On the Opening Day

125 TUITION PUPILS ARE ENROLLED

The enrollment in the Clearfield public schools on opening day, Monday, October 2d, totaled 1681 pupils. These pupils were divided among the different buildings as follows:

High School	436
Eighth Grade	127
Market Street Building	356
Third Ward	402
Fourth Ward	289
Reedsville	71

The attendance the first day was 97 1-2 per cent of the total enrollment.

On account of the crowded condition of the high school building the day is divided into two sections. The Seniors and Juniors attend from 8 o'clock to 12, while the Sophomores and Freshmen are heard from 12:30 to 4:30 p. m. The periods are limited to thirty-five minutes each instead of fifty minutes as provided for in the regular order, when it is possible to occupy the new high school building, which will be done following the Christmas holidays.

When the high school is removed from its present quarters to the new building the seventh and eighth will be housed in the present high school building and this building or school will be known as the Central Grammar school.

This year the tuition pupils—those from other districts attending the Clearfield schools total 125. Each pupil or school district from which he comes will be required to pay $4.00 per month tuition charges to the Clearfield School board and this item during last year amounted to more than $3,000.

Every school is already down to business and from the admirable working organization already perfected and able corps of instructors engaged excellent results are confidently looked forward to by Superintendent Zorff and the school board.

Well Known Veteran Passes Away

Funeral of Richard J. Shaffner Will Be in Charge of G. A. R.

Richard J. Shaffner, a well known and highly respected resident of Lawrence township, passed peacefully to rest at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William T. Hinkle in Plymtonville, on Thursday evening last after an illness of several months duration aged 76 years.

The deceased was the son of the late Samuel Shaffner, and was born and raised in Lawrence township. He followed farming and lumbering. He was a veteran of the Civil War and possessed an enviable war record. Following the death of his wife, several years ago he had been making his home with his children and for the past year had been living with Mrs. Hinkle.

He is survived by three children: Mrs. Emmott Hinkle, of Salem, Ore.; Mrs. Harry Haney, of Clearfield, and Mrs. William T. Hinkle of Lawrence township.

Funeral services will be held at his late home Sunday afternoon at two o'clock and will be in charge of Larimer Post, G. A. R. Interment in Mt. Joy cemetery.

MRS. WILSON'S BIRTHDAY

Long Branch, N. J., Oct. 14.—This was a red-letter day at Shadow Lawn the summer home of the President and Mrs. Wilson. Officially it was designated as "Pennsylvania day," having been set aside by the President for the reception of a large party of Pennsylvania Democrats who came over to pay their respects. Officially it was "Mrs. Wilson's day" in the presidential family circle and household. The day was the anniversary of Mrs. Wilson's birth and many were the remembrances and greetings received from friends and admirers throughout the country. Mrs. Wilson was born at Wytheville, Va., Oct. 14, 1872.

Year Old Wilkesbarre Street Car Strike Comes to An End

Strike Started One Year Ago Today and None of The Men Have Broken Ranks

Wilkes Barre, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—The local street car strike started a year ago ended today when mediators for the owners talked with national officers of the strike union reached practically the basis of settlement. The thirty patrolmen who were ordered off duty by Mayor Kosek will have to be reinstated according to a clause of the agreement. From the inauguration of the strike October 14, 1915, none of the men have broken the ranks. Twelve men refused to strike and these have been working ever since, but the others are as firm today as when they walked out.

K. OF C. BANQUET IS PLEASANT OCCASION

Michael J. Ryan, the Guest of Honor and Orator of the Evening, Well Received

177 PRESENT AT BANQUET

The banquet given by Clearfield Knights of Columbus at the Dimeling Thursday afternoon in celebration of Columbus Day, was the largest and most successful occasion of the kind in the history of the organization. Guests were present from Curwensville, DuBois, Osceola, Houtzdale, Philipsburg and Tyrone.

Hon. Michael J. Ryan former city solicitor of Philadelphia, and a member of the Pennsylvania Public Service commission, was the honor guest and orator of the evening. It is doubtful if Pennsylvania possesses within her borders a more eloquent public speaker than Mr. Ryan and his address on this occasion was indeed an oratorical gem of purest rays serene.

He paid most eloquent tribute to Christopher Columbus the patron of the order and whose name it bears and exhorted his hearers to let the achievements of the discoverer of the American continent be their guide and inspiration to do things, and closed with an eloquent appeal for right living and patriotic American citizenship.

A. H. Woodward, Esq., Clearfield's most noted after dinner speaker, followed in a pleasing address, which struck the popular chord.

The third speaker, Dr. S. J. Waterworth, of the local council, was also a highly pleasing effort and was fully in keeping with the high character of the preceding addresses.

James P. O'Laughlin, Esq., presided as toastmaster in his usual inimitable manner and added new laurels to his already fine reputation as the force which makes the wheels go round at functions such as this.

Manager McGinnis provided the following appetizing menu for the occasion:

Blue Points on Shell	Consomme	Gherkins
Celery	Olives
Roast Young Turkey, Stuffed	Cranberry Jelly
Whipped Potatoes	Candied Jersey Sweet
	Green Peas
	Waldorf Salad
Vanilla Ice Cream	Cake
Cheese	Crackers
Mixed Nuts	Mints
Cafe Noir

During the banquet, which was participated in by 176 persons "Tipperary" "When You Were a Tulip," "Where the River Shannon Flows," "America" and "Auld Lang Syne" were sung by the assemblage with feeling effect.

The party arose from the banquet board and adjourned to the Assembly hall at 11 o'clock and enjoyed in dancing until the wee sma' hours, when all departed for their homes unanimously voting the entire affair a huge success, and complimenting the committee in charge and The Dimeling management most heartily for their good work.

Wilson Opens Power On Great Dam Today

One of the Engineers on Project is Associated With E. W. Hess

President Wilson will start the wheels of the immense power house connected with this dam, by pressing a button at Washington at noon October 14th. Pictures of this the largest dam in the United States were given in the Public Ledger last Sunday.

Harry S. Stanton, Asso. M. Am. Soc. C. E., now engaged in the completion of the Elephant Butte dam, New Mexico, has resigned from the Reclamation service and will be associated with E. W. Hess, Engineer, M. Am. Soc. C. E., at DuBois, Penna. in the general practice of engineering. From Engineering News, New York, Oct. 12, 1916.

Mr. Stanton had a varied experience in engineering work, railroads, trolleys, municipal and mines before entering the Reclamation service.

FARMERS OF COUNTY PROVE THAT THEY ARE PROGRESSIVE

Two Hundred From Clearfield Wend Their Way to Snow Shoe Fertilizer Test

Are Shown Most Interesting Exhibits Of Producing Abilities of DeKalb Soil Under Proper Scientific Fertilization and Tilling.

The progressive attitude of the Clearfield County Farmers was very clearly shown by the excellent representation at the Snow Shoe Fertilizer Plats on Thursday, October 12th. Although the season was an extremely busy one, more than two hundred Clearfield County farmers left their work, climbed into their automobiles and set out for Snow Shoe in the frost and fog of an October morning.

The scene of the gathering was an abandoned mountain pasture a short distance over the Center County line upon which are located the 33 tenth acre plats upon which soil and fertilizer tests are being conducted by the Department of Experimental Agronomy at the Pennsylvania State College.

It would have been difficult to find a worse depleted and more barren location for conducting soil fertility experiments. The land surrounding the fertilizer plats is entirely devoid of useful vegetation and the soil seems capable of producing only scanty growths of such poor plants as poverty grass, briars and sweet fern.

Although the soil upon which these experiments are being conducted is great deal worse depleted than most DeKalb soils in the state, the same general principle of soil fertility will apply here as to the remaining twelve million acres of this type of land in Pennsylvania, and the results obtained here may be regarded as practically conclusive for all of the agricultural land in Clearfield county. The experiments as conducted here have for their object the study of economical method of building up this type of land found so extensively throughout this section of the State.

In explanation of the manner in which this work has been conducted and the results thus far obtained Mr. White, who is in direct charge of the experimental work, emphasized the following points:

1. All DeKalb soils are sour and before results from the application of plant food can be expected it is necessary to first correct this soil acidity in order that the comparative effect of the different methods of fertilization might be obtained. All plats but the check plats received an application at the rate of 3,000 pounds per acre of ground limestone. This application is larger than is ordinarily necessary to apply to get satisfactory immediate results, but since much of the ground limestone does not become immediately available they expect at least half of this application to be used in maintaining a desirable alkaline condition in years to come.

2. Phosphorous is the limiting fertilizing element on DeKalb soils. This means that there is a great deficiency of Phosphorous than any other fertilizing element so far as plant growth is concerned. The application of Phosphorous found most profitable was 65 pounds of phosphoric acid which would be equivalent to about 400 pounds of 14 per cent acid phosphate.

3. Under present conditions it is impossible to apply potash without loss, but under normal conditions experimental results show that an application of about 25 pounds of potash (actual) or 50 pounds of muriate of potash gives the best results when applied in connection with the aforementioned amounts of lime and phosphorous.

Election Frauds Are Mostly in Indiana

Evidence Will Be Presented to Grand Jury Next Month.

Indianapolis, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Agents of the department of justice from Washington are working in Indiana cities in connection with charges of election frauds. It was admitted in a statement by L. E. Slack, United States district attorney. It is charged that registration on October 9, was not conducted legally and that plans are being made to bring the voters from other states into Indiana for election in November. The evidence will be presented to the Federal grand jury next month.

CELEBRATION AT KENTUCKY "U"

Lexington, Ky., Oct. 14.—Seldor has Lexington been called upon to entertain a larger crowd of visitors than that which showed up here today to help make a success of the golden jubilee celebration of Kentucky university. From far and near came the alumni, hundreds of whom left the cares of business behind to return for a brief spell to the scenes of their student days. The day's program called for informal class reunions, an historical parade and addresses by President H. S. Barker, President Emeritus James K. Patterson and others. As an added attraction this afternoon came the annual Vanderbilt 'Kentucky football game, the most important contest of the year on the 'Wildcat' schedule.

shoric acid. This fact is a very important one to remember when approached by the fertilizer agent who wishes to sell a ready mixed fertilizer containing one per cent. of potash at a price far in advance of its actual value.

4. Commercial nitrogen was used at a loss on these experiments as has far conducted. There is a possibility that commercial nitrogen may pay for itself when applied to the wheat crop but when it is understood that legumes store up nitrogen without being influenced by the present demand for nitrogen by the muntion factories and that a ton crop of clover returns $8 worth of nitrogen to the soil, it is a very doubtful practice to apply commercial nitrogen to general farm crops when a legume crop is grown in rotation as it invariably should be.

In view of the fact that the results obtained in this experiment conform to the experience of many of our most progressive Clearfield County farmers it would seem well to keep them in mind in making future applications of lime and fertilizer. In looking through a fertilizer agent's books his best selling branch is found to be an -8-1 mixture, that is one of nitrogen, of phosphoric acid and one of potash. This branch was selling at $24 a ton. 16 per cent acid phosphate could be purchased at the same time for $19. Must we not logically conclude that $14 a ton is an exorbitant price for the small amount of nitrogen and potash obtained by this expenditure. Examination of the chemical analysis of hay or oats struck would demonstrate beyond a doubt that potash could be obtained through its application much more economically than through the application of commercial potash at present prices.

It must not be forgotten, however, that potash can be applied with profit in the proportions before given when potash the market returns to its normal condition. Very instructive talks were given by Dean Watts, Dr. Sparks and Professors Gardner and Tomhave. Prof. Tomhave spoke on livestock and the utilization of DeKalb soil and emphasized the importance of good livestock in maintaining a permanent system of agriculture on soils of this type.

Professor Gardner spoke on the subject of making poor soils good, and in closing he emphasized the following essentials in making farming more profitable:

A carefully planned crop rotation with varieties of the crops that are adapted to local conditions should not be overlooked. Increase in the numbers of all classes of livestock, poultry and dairy cattle will make for the fullest utilization of the farm products and the farm labor, and will go forward maintaining soil fertility. The use of green manures and the application of lime and phosphate are essential in connection with the building up of the fertility of the soil. No crop rotation in which clover or some other legume does not enter is likely to prove profitable.

DANISH LINER SIGHTS WEST BOUND SUB.

WAS SIGHTED 200 MILES OUT

New York, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—A west bound submarine was sighted one mile astern of the Danish liner Hellig Olav at 8:30 yesterday morning by the White State Liner Bovic which returned from Manchester, England today. Some of the Bovic's officers felt sure that it was chasing the Danish vessel while others were not certain that the Hellig Olav was being chased. The Bovic speeded up and changed her course westward that she may avoid a possible attack. The Hellig Olav left New York Thursday for Copenhagen and other Scandinavian ports carrying 71 cabin passenger and several steerage passengers. It was 200 miles east of New York when the Bovic saw the submarine near here yesterday. Captain Jones of the Bovic would not discuss the submarine but Captain Hall of the tug from Sandy Hook which brought the Bovic in said that Captain Jones told him that it looked through a telescope and that it was a mile away from the Danish vessel. He would have opened fire if it had been a larger target, he said.

Boston, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Absolutely nothing has been heard of the German submarine U-53 since reports were received that the steamer Bovic had seen a submarine yesterday, the Charleston radio station reported today. The report was current that a submarine had been seen off the Massachusetts coast but this was confused with reports that a Danish vessel was being pursued by a submarine which was seen by the steamer Bovic.

New York Milk Strike Comes To Abrupt End

Producers Are To Get One Cent a Quart More For Milk

New York, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—The New York milk strike ended today when nineteen companies in the city reached an agreement with the producers after a four hours session at which it was agreed to pay one cent more a quart for the milk. Normal conditions will be in swing by Monday.

SOCIETY WOMAN WILL EXPLORE THE AMAZON

Newport, R. I., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Unexplored jungles encompassing the Amazon river hold no terrors for Mrs. A. Hamilton Rice, who is expected to sail from here today with her husband, Dr. A. Hamilton Rice, the South American explorer, for a voyage into the unknown upper reaches of the greatest river in the world.

Mrs. Rice, formerly Mrs. George D. Widener, a Philadelphia society leader, was saved when her husband went down with the Titanic.

Dr. and Mrs. Rice, with three members of the London Geographical society, which is financing the expedition, embark on the steam yacht Alberta, once owned by King Leopold II of Belgium and presented to Dr. Rice by th Baroness Vaughan.

Dr. Rice is a Harvard graduate. Mrs. Rice is the daughter of the late William L. Elkins, of Pennsylvania.

Bayonne Lady Drops Dead From Fright As The Result Strike

Reported That Four Thousand Employees of the Standard Oil at Bayway Will Strike Tomorrow

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—One death as a result of the strike occurred today when Mrs. Anna Coup, aged 60 dropped dead of fright when policemen entered her home this afternoon. The Union Pacific Borax Company have agreed to give their men who receive $3.00 per day of 12 per cent. and to the men who receive over $3.00 per day an increase of 7 per cent. 4,000 employees of the Standard Oil Company plant at Bayway near Elizabeth were expected to walk out this afternoon. H. A. Reese of Kylertown and J. E. Michaels of Mahaffey were here today to attend the Road View meeting.

ABAINCOURT IS IN HANDS OF FRENCHMEN

King Constantine Fears German Will Overrun Roumania and Greece if She Enters War

SERBIANS ATTACK BULGARIANS

London, Oct. 14.—(By United Press)—Fighting between Italian and Austrian troops at Cherso Gorge is being continued with violence. A Rome dispatch reported today. The Austrians have lost 2,800 men in the last 48 hours fighting, the Italian statement said. German troops in vigorous counter attacks have succeeded in reoccupying Abaincourt fighting on the south of the Somme. The attacks were received by strong fire. French troops, however, have driven the Germans out, and Abaincourt is now entirely in French hands. General Foch reported. An attempt to invade Roumania by Austrian and German troops is reported by a Bucharest dispatch. The British in the Balkans have driven the enemy troops across Seres. While the Serbians continue their attack against Bulgaria. King Constantine, according to the Athens correspondent, told a diplomat that he fears Germany will over run Roumania and he also has the same fears of a likewise for Greece should that country enter the war. He is delaying action for that reason.

UNDERMINING THE HOME.

During recent years there has been in some quarters a marked disposition to impose upon the national or state government, the public school system, upon municipal authorities, responsibilities which properly belong to the home. This is a blunder of great magnitude. We admit that when parents are wholly unfit to train their children the latter should be taken from them and placed in real homes. But nothing in the world can take the place of the home; nothing is equal to parental responsibility. The pulpit should make this plain to the parents who sit in the pews and claim to believe in the doctrines of religion.

The solitary were gathered into families in the beginning. The family is a divine institution. Its duties and responsibilities have been imposed upon it by the Highest Wisdom. Instead of being encouraged to shift the burden in rearing and disciplining its young inmates to others, it should be admonished to magnify the office of the father and the mother. There is a certain divine individuality about the genuine family life that leaves a lasting impress upon the minds and the hearts of its young subjects. The state fails to realize the perils that will soon lie in its way when it undertakes to do its own work and the work of the family, also, leaving parents free to become careless and selfish and indifferent.

In some sections of the United States, we are told, there are mothers who seem to be absolutely destitute of the mothering instinct. They permit their children to sleep at home; they feed them when they present themselves at meal time; they exercise a reasonable vigilance over the matter of clothing them; but they are quite willing that somebody else shall attend to their mental, moral and physical education. They throw upon the church responsibility for the religious culture of their offspring; they place upon the school the entire burden of education, both in mere mental attainments as well as common courtesy and good manners. They do not burden their consciences concerning the whereabouts of the children until bedtime. In short they have abdicated the opportunities, the privileges, the responsibilities of parenthood, while quite prepared to claim its benefits, should any accrue in the later years.

It used to be said that the word "home" is one of the dearest in the English language. To many persons it is still that. But in a great many instances the modern home has become a sleeping place and a place of occasional social resort; little else. The husband and father is harassed by many cares. He is a business or a professional man and as he grows in years becomes increasingly engrossed by the cares of life. He eats his breakfast at home, perhaps, but his lunch, and quite often his dinner, are the product of the restaurant. It has become very common, also, for the American woman to imitate the example of her husband and take many of her meals down town. Sometimes she belongs to a fashionable club where meals are served and she is fond of meeting her friends there. The children—if there are any—must serve themselves or trust to the tender mercies of hired help. These things should not be. They serve as the beginning of national degeneration. The home should be the dearest spot on earth, the most attractive to every one of its members. Any tendency which has the effect of weaning one from his associations, home employments, home joys, should be shunned.—Altoona Tribune.

CURWENSVILLE

The Keystone cornet band rendered some very excellent music on the street last evening.

Curwensville needs a thorough fall house cleaning. Let the lazy men help the industrious women.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Heitzner will give a reception this evening at their home on Smith street in honor of their son Bruce and his bride.

Messrs. Merritt Caldwell and Frampton Bailey leave Sunday for "Turkey Run." If any other hunter can locate the place he too might get a run for his money.

Owing to the inclement weather last evening the pie social which was to have been held at the home of Frank Bloom, Ferncliff, was postponed until this evening.

Dr. W. G. Gann and wife, Mrs. J. D. Corbett and Mrs. Rehmire, all of DuBois, were a motor party that partook of a fine dinner at the New Central hotel on Thursday.

Prof. Briggs, connected with the department of agriculture at Harrisburg, gave a lecture in the High school building last evening. There was quite a good attendance, and many heard more about birds, their habits and use than they ever knew before.

John Kelly, the noted fox hunter, is planning quite a hunting trip. Beginning on Monday next he will take a week off hunting horned owls. He has a very fine specimen mounted and on display in his home, together with all manner and kinds of pelts. John gets "the bacon" as the saying goes.

Several near accidents occurred between here and Clearfield Thursday. In two instances the drivers were hurrying the wrong side of the curve. Why is that such a violation of road law is tolerated by the Highway department? Drastic legislation must be enacted concerning qualifications for driving motor propelled vehicles.

A. Z. Wolf and wife, W. K. Wrigley and wife, G. M. Cate and wife, J. M. McKinley and wife, and J. L. Leeb and wife will compose a general party who go to the Bear Run hunting camp, on the barrens, next week where they will enjoy camp life for five or six days. The male portion of the colony will put in the time hunting for the descriptive pheasant.

John S. Furt, accompanied by a friend, A. Spencer, both of Philadelphia, arrived in Curwensville yesterday. They will start for one of the mountain hunting camps on Monday morning where they will remain during the week hunting. Mr. Furt is well known here having served as cashier of the Citizens bank during its short life. His innumerable friends were glad to welcome him "home" and see him enjoying good health.

The Civic club program, for Tuesday, the 31st at 7, as handed to the Progress, and by a lady on the committee with request to publish as follows: Singing, club invocation, "Lord's Prayer"; music, McKinley's orchestra; monologue, Concepcion Lanberry; dact, Rev. E. D. Pakhill and Mabel Leonard; open parliament, "The imperative need of a Community Centre in Curwensville" opened by Rev. Max Lantz; pianologue, Elizabeth Pilkington; dact, Prof. H. A. Dickey and Margaret Hipps; reading, Fred Robinson; violin solo, Laura Troy; reading Cecilia Jane Smith; selection, orchestra.

The funeral of the late Robert J. Shaffner will take place at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon at the services will be held at the Mt. Joy church, officiating in Mr. Joy Cemetery.

ON THE SCREEN

"ONE MILLION DOLLARS"

The Special Feature at the Globe Today

will be the latest release of Rolfe Photo Play, Inc. on the program of the Metro Picture corporation, and presents William Faversham, the famous dramatic actor, in five act feature picture, "One Million Dollars." This is typical Faversham production, teeming with action and unfolding an intensely interesting story of love and intrigue. It is pictured from the successful novel, "One Million Dollars" by Frederick Arnold Kummer, author of many books and plays, including "The Other Woman" in which Blanch Walsh was starred, "The Painted Woman" with Florence Red and "Mr. Rattles" with Henry E. Dixey.

An excellent cast appears in support of Mr. Faversham, including Henry Bergam, George Le Guere, Carlotta De Polce and Arthur Morrison.

THE APOSTLE OF VENGEANCE

Mrs. S. Hart and Fatty Arbuckle at The Opera House Monday

The Triangle program which will be shown at the Opera House on Monday presents two of their most popular stars in one of the most entertaining shows ever presented in one evening.

Win S. Hart in "The Apostle of Vengeance" a 5 reel story of a Kentucky feud, plays the part of a minister called to his old home to avenge the murder of his father. He tries to make the mountaineers see the error of their ways by preaching but only succeeds in making them think he is a coward. Finally his little sister is attacked and Hart lays aside his clerical robes and gets a gun. The story is thrilling in the extreme. Fatty Arbuckle is presented in one of his best comedies, "The Waiter's Ball" a 2 reel Keystone guaranteed to make a blind man laugh. It is just packed full of fun and is Arbuckle at his best. You will surely enjoy them.

NOTED DIRECTOR OF PUBLIC WORKS DIED TODAY

Pittsburgh, Oct. 14.—Robert Swan, director of public works in this city and one of the country's leading engineers died at his home here today. Deceased Swan was for many years one of the chief engineers of the Pennsylvania railroad here. He was vice president and general manager of the T. L. Gillespie company. He directed the work of the water system in many sections of the country including New York city. He was aged 57 years and died of heart failure.

Lesson III.—Fourth Quarter, For Oct. 15, 1916.

THE INTERNATIONAL SERIES.

Text of the Lesson, Acts xxv, 1-12. Memory Verses, 10, 11—Golden Text, Matt. x. 25—Commentary Prepared by Rev. D. M. Stearns.

The successor to Felix, Porcius Festus, seems to have been in some respects like minded to Felix, for he, too, was willing to do the Jews a pleasure (xxiv. 27; xxv. 12), and he would have sent Paul back to Jerusalem had he been willing to go. This was what the Jews desired, that they might lay in wait for him by the way and kill him (xxv. 3). Their hatred of Paul does not seem to have decreased in the least during two years, for they were still full of grievous complaints against him which they could not prove (verses 2, 7). He was having wondrous fellowship with the Lord Jesus, for whose sake he was suffering and of whom it was written, "False witnesses did rise up; they laid unto my charge things that I knew not." "Reproach hath broken my heart, and I am full of heaviness" (Ps. xxv. 11; lxxxix. 20).

When we consider such words as these, "Thou shalt be hid from the scourge of the tongue," "Thou shalt keep them secretly in a pavilion from the strife of tongues," "There shall no evil befall thee," "No weapon that is formed against thee shall prosper" (Job v. 21; Ps. xxi. 20; xci. 10; Isa. liv. 17) and other similar assurances we are tempted to wonder a little, but then we remember that Paul was told that he must suffer great things for Christ's sake, and he taught others that we must through much tribulation enter into the kingdom of God and that all who will live godly in Christ Jesus shall suffer persecution. And our Lord said to His disciples that in the world we would have tribulation, and after He ascended He said to one of the churches that the devil would cast some of them into prison, but they were to continue faithful even if they died for it, and some who had been killed were told to rest awhile till others should be killed as they were (Acts ix. 16; xiv. 22; II Tim. iii. 12; John xvi. 23; Rev. ii. 10; vi. 11). He certainly loves His own and will to the uttermost, yet He allowed the disciples to toll nearly all night against a contrary wind, and He allowed Lazarus to continue sick and die and be buried that God might be glorified.

We must bear in mind that just because we are His we have the world, the flesh and the devil to contend with, but He will not suffer us to be tried above that we are able, and all our trials and afflictions are working for us a far more exceeding and eternal weight of glory (I Cor. x. 13; II Cor. iv. 17-18). When from the kingdom and the glory we look back over our life story and consider all the way by which He has led us we may perhaps see a reason for everything He has done or permitted. But we shall surely say right was the pathway leading to this. It therefore becomes us during this little while to say, "As for God, His way is perfect." "Just and true are Thy ways, Thou King of nations" (Ps. xlvii. 10; Rev. xv. 3).

If only we could have no will of our own and rest wholly and fully in the perfect will and love of God we would have a foretaste of heaven in spite of all our trials here. When Paul refused to return to Jerusalem and appealed to Caesar that decided matters for the present, and Festus said, "Unto Caesar shalt thou go" (verses 9-12). It may be that the Lord's next message to him, "So must thou bear witness also at Rome" (xxiii. 11), helped him to decide to appeal to Caesar, for Caesar meant Rome, and this may have seemed to him his opportunity.

King Agrippa and Bernice having come to Caesarea to salute Festus, the whole matter was laid before them, and Agrippa expressed a desire to hear Paul for himself, and that will be our lesson for next week. Thus was being fulfilled the Lord's message to Ananias concerning Paul. "He is a chosen vessel unto me to bear my name before the gentiles and kings and the children of Israel (ix. 15). As Festus rehearsed the matter to Agrippa, he said that the whole matter seemed to be a question of Jewish superstition, and specially concerning one Jesus who was dead, but whom Paul affirmed to be alive (verse 10). Does not that seem to describe the knowledge that many so called enlightened people have of Him even now? Many are like Gallo and care for none of these things (xxviii. 14-17), while many more, even among church-goers, who take some part in the public worship outwardly, know nothing of Him as a person of Saviour and friend.

It is written of such in Isa. xxix. 13, "They have drawn near me with their mouth, and with their lips do honor me, but have removed their heart far from me." Also in Ezek. xxxiii. 21, "They hear thy words, but they will not do them, for with their mouth they show us high love, but their heart is not with us." In Matt. x. 33, our Lord quoted the words from Isaiah concerning the hypocrites of His day. Can you not hear our Lord saying to you, "What think ye of Jesus? Whom do ye say that I am?" Does your heart reply, "O Lord, thou art to me my own Saviour, who didst bear my sins on the cross and hast redeemed me by Thy precious blood, that I might live for Thee, and after I have suffered awhile share Thy kingdom and glory?"

BECOMES BRIDE OF SWISS DIPLOMAT

Cincinnati, O., Oct. 14.—An international romance reached its culmination today in the ceremony at St. a large crowd and the largest display which made Miss Elizabeth Schoepf daughter of the millionaire head of the Cincinnati traction system, the bride of Dr. Charles Paul Hubschler, secretary of the Swiss legation at Washington. The wedding took place in the presence of a notable company of society people. The bridegroom had as his best man Count Raoul d'Adhemar of Washington.

TO AVOID PARALYSIS.

Boston, Mass., Oct. 14.—Residents of Philadelphia, Washington and cities further south who have passed the Summer in the fashionable colonies along the North Shore have arranged for a special train to carry them home without touching at New York. The train will leave Boston tomorrow and will make the trip to Philadelphia and Washington by way of the Poughkeepsie Bridge. The idea is to avoid the metropolis on account of the infantile paralysis situation there.

STATE FAIR OPENS AT DALLAS.

Dallas, Tex., Oct. 14.—During the next two weeks Dallas will be the Mecca for thousands of visitors from all over the Southwest who annually attend the Texas State Fair. The fair was formally opened today with a large crowd and the largest display in every department ever known on opening day. Horses, cattle and other live stock exceed in number and excellence any previous fair, while in the agricultural, machinery and domestic are halls the displays are better and more varied than last year. For the opening day an interesting program of addresses and ceremonies was arranged.

PAIN GONE! RUB SORE, RHEUMATIC ACHING JOINTS

Rub pain away with a small trial Bottle of old, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil."

Stop "dossing" rheumatism. It's pain only; not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacob's Oil" right on the "tender spot" and by the time you say Jack Robinson—out comes the rheumatic pain and distress. "St. Jacob's Oil" is a harmless rheumatism liniment which never disappoints and doesn't burn the skin. It takes pain, soreness and stiffness from aching joints, muscles, and bones; stops sciatica, lumbago, backache and neuralgia.

Limber up! Get a small trial bottle of old-time, honest, "St. Jacob's Oil" from any drug store, and in a moment, you'll be free from pains, aches and stiffness. Don't suffer! Rub rheumatism away.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat Also take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The urine becomes cloudy; the bladder is irritated, and you may be obliged to seek relief two or three times during the night. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's urinous waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad.

Let less meat, drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act free. This famous salts is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids in urine, so it no longer is a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness.

Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Drugists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.

SECOND CAPLAN TRIAL TO BEGIN

Los Angeles, Cal., Oct. 14—The second trial of David Caplan, charged with complicity in the dynamiting of the Los Angeles Times building six years ago, is scheduled to begin in the superior court here Monday. In the previous trial last May, the jury was unable to agree on a verdict. It was reported at the time that the jurors stood seven for conviction and five for acquittal. The trial lasted more than a month.

Caplan is specifically charged with the murder of Charles Hagerly, whose body was identified more certainly than that of other victims of the explosion that wrecked the Times building here Oct. 1, 1910. It was on this same charge that James B. McNamara received a sentence of life imprisonment in 1911, and Mathew A. Schmidt, convicted Dec. 29 last, was given a similar sentence. John J. McNamara, former secretary-treasurer of the International Association of Bridge and Structural Iron Workers, who was charged jointly with James B. McNamara, was allowed to plead guilty to causing an explosion at Llewellyn Iron works. Dec. 27, 1910, and was sentenced to fifteen years at San Quentin. The McNamaras now are serving their terms.

Among the other major league clubs, in the West there are no outward and visible signs at present to indicate any managerial changes in prospect at Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit or Pittsburgh.

Among the Eastern clubs, it is regarded as a pretty safe bet that new managers will take charge of the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox. There is also believed to exist a remote possibility that the Braves will fight for the 1917 pennant under the guiding hand of a new pilot. Although it has been denied by all concerned, some of the wise ones still persist that President Houghton will resign and allow Manager George Stallings to tackle the job of president of the Braves. Should this prove true, Fred Mitchell is most likely to be given the manager-

OPEN SEASON FOR CANNING BIG LEAGUE MANAGERS

Several major league pilots are tagged for the ax and other big time generals will resign before another season rolls around, if Mrs. Rumor is peddling the right dope.

In view of the Chicago fan's conclusion that "Pants" Rowland can't win a pennant with a million dollar aggregation; such as the White Sox is supposed to be, and that Joe Tinker has failed to get anywhere with the Cubs, the chances are that both pilots will be given the gate.

It is true that the Cubs have shown very little of the winning stuff under Tinker but at the same time it is considered improbable that the outfit would have done any better under another manager. Another angle to Joe's in-bad situation is the remembrance of his desertion of the National league for the Feds. 'Tis said that more than one National league magnate is still sore at Joe Joseph for his hurdling act. If this be true, the said magnates undoubtedly will see to it that the exit for Joe is marked in letters six feet high.

In Rowland's case conditions are different. He is blamed for the back-sliding of the White Sox after they had grabbed the topmost rung of the American League ladder. The White Sox are credited with possessing pastimes of as high class as map. Yet the team has not arrived any to be found on the big league after being picked at the right number for the past two seasons. So it seems that Rowland's trouble lies in his failure to make a championship team out of championship timber.

In St. Louis Fielder Jones has been proclaimed to lead the Browns out of the wilderness. Unless all signs fail Fielder will direct the Browns again next year and will have under his care a full-grown, regular big yard outfit.

What's on the minds of the Cardinals' owners is a mystery. They're not talking. Perhaps Miller Huggins may again lead the Cards and then again perhaps he may not. In some quarters it is whispered that the Cards are to be renovated and rebuilt from pilot to bat boy.

Among the other major league clubs, in the West there are no outward and visible signs at present to indicate any managerial changes in prospect at Cleveland, Cincinnati, Detroit or Pittsburgh.

Among the Eastern clubs, it is regarded as a pretty safe bet that new managers will take charge of the New York Giants and the Boston Red Sox. There is also believed to exist a remote possibility that the Braves will fight for the 1917 pennant under the guiding hand of a new pilot. Although it has been denied by all concerned, some of the wise ones still persist that President Houghton will resign and allow Manager George Stallings to tackle the job of president of the Braves. Should this prove true, Fred Mitchell is most likely to be given the manager-ical berth vacated by Stallings.

Manager Bill Carrigan has repeatedly declared of late that he is through with the game and purposes in future to devote his whole time to his grocery business. Carrigan, Me., Bill avers that his business interests have grown to such proportions that it will no longer be possible for him to remain in baseball. Should he make good his threat to retire it will be a hard blow for the Red Sox. They might select a leader from among Jack Barry, Heinie Wagner, or Patsy Donovan, the Buffalo hero, but there's a heap of difference between trying out a new manager and having an old hand, like the dependable Bill, at the helm.

Owners of the New York National league club declare that McGraw will continue to manage the team, notwithstanding the big rumpus during the last New York-Brooklyn series, when McGraw is said to have accused his Giants of having a streak of yellow in them as wide as the Yellow sea. But despite the declarations of the club owners the Gotham fans have John "parcel-posted" for parts unknown. The majority of them believe that McGraw will never again boss the Giants. His contract expires this year and he is said to have flattering offers to pilot other teams. Then again, after that "Bawling out" in Brooklyn, the Giants and John would be likely to get along together about as harmoniously as a fox terrier and a strange cat.

ART MUSEUM DIRECTORS

Detroit, Mich., Oct. 14—Detroit will entertain next week the second meeting of the newly-formed Association of Art Museum Directors, the first meeting which was held in Chicago last July. The objects of the association are to facilitate the assembling of exhibitions, the establishment of uniform insurance and express rates and the arrangement of other details which will reduce the cost of art exhibitions and insure a greater variety. The art museums of New York, Chicago, Minneapolis, Boston, Cleveland, Toledo, and a number of other cities have affiliated with the new association.

CENTENNIAL OF EVANGELICALISM.

Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 14—Leaders of the Evangelical church, including the several bishops and many prominent representatives of the clergy and laity are assembling here to take part in a celebration of the centennial of the holding of the first conference of the denomination. It was in this country that the first conference was held just one hundred years ago. The official celebration of the anniversary will begin here tomorrow and continue over several days. The participants in the celebration will include large delegations from Wisconsin, Michigan, Ohio, Pennsylvania, Illinois, and Iowa, in which States the Evangelical church has its largest memberships.

KEEP LOOKING YOUNG

It's Easy—If You Know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

The secret of keeping young is to feel young—to do this you must watch your liver and bowels—there's no need of having a sallow complexion—dark rings under your eyes—pimples—a bilious look in your face—dull eyes with no sparkle. Your doctor will tell you ninety per cent of all sickness comes from inactive bowels and liver.

Dr. Edwards, a well-known physician in Ohio, perfected a vegetable compound mixed with olive oil to act on the liver and bowels, which he gave to his patients for years.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the substitute for calomel, are gentle in their action, yet always effective. They bring about that exuberance of spirit, that natural buoyancy which should be enjoyed by everyone, by toning up the liver and clearing the system of impurities. You will know Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets by their olive color. 10c and 25c per box. All druggists.

A pheasant flew into the town of Somerset and dashed itself to death in an undertaker's establishment.
